Mme. Yale's HAIR

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

It affords me great pleasure to call the attention of the public to Mme. Yale's Excelsior Hair Tonle, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns gray hair back to its criginal color without dye. It has gone on record that Mme. M. Yale—wonderful woman chemist—has made this mat valuable of all chemical discoveries. Mme. Yale personally inderses its action, and gives the public her solemn guaranty that it has been tested in every enceivable way and has proved itself to be the ONLY Hair Specific. It STOPS HAIR: ALLING immediately and creates a luxuriant growth. Contains no minrious ingredient. Physician: and chemists invited to analyze it. It is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary, it makes the hair soft, youthful, fluffy and keeps it in curl. For gentlemen and ladies with hair a little gray, streaked gray, entirely gray and with bald heads it is especially recommended.

CHEVY CHASE WON

Columbia Defeated in Team Match for Evening Star Cup.

BUT TWO HOME PLAYERS IN FRONT

Dr. Lee Harban's Colors Lowered by F. O. Horstman in Fine Game.

SPORTS IN GENERAL

In the third team match for the golf hampionship of the District of Columbia, played for The Evening Star cup, on the links of the Columbia club yesterday afternoon, the Chevy Chase aggregation once more maintained its reputation by defeating the home team 16 up on holes and 12 up on points in the new system of tabulating. The players on the Columbia team have improved wonderfully during the past year, and it was thought that a very close match would result, with a fair chance of victory being theirs; but the Chevy Chase men have evidently not been losing ground, for their work yesterday was exceptionally clever and entitled them to the victory. Another point in the match that the kncwing ones took into account and which was thought would play an important part towards pushing Columbia to the front is the unusually "tricky" condition of the new links. It is questionable whether there is a more difficult course in the country than that of the Columbias, and as the home players have familiarized themselves with the bad spots it was believed that Chevy Chase would be handicapped just that much. But the contrary proved to be the case, the visiting team getting over the difficult places with apparent ease, while the home players several times during the afternoon got into difficulties which lost hem the hole by one or more strokes. But two of the Columbia golfers came out ahead yesterday, Messrs. McKinley and Leet. The former is one of the most erratic players in this part of the country, but when he is playing his best game it requires sensational golf to beat him out. Yesterday Mac dropped into one of his good periods, and although Marvin Thompson put up an exceptionally clever game he was beaten by four up. Mr. Leet and Arthur Brice also enjoyed an interesting battle, the lead alternating throughout the eighteen holes, the Columbia lad finally winning out by four up.

An Interesting Contest.

The contest which was watched with the greatest interest during the afternoon was that between Dr. Lee Harban and Mr. F. O. Horstman. These gentlemen acted as captains of the Columbia and Chevy Chase teams, respectively, and although they were the sixth team to tee off, the large gallery waited around the club house with patience for them to come out. When they did walk toward the initial tee it appeared as if everybody in the neighborhood had been given the signal and all crowded around to watch the drives. to watch the drives.

Mr. Horstman made the first drive, and, as usual, it was a beauty, although Dr. Harban's was quite as effective, the latter capturing the first shole on three strokes. The doctor was also in front on the second hole, but on the third his luck and clever-usual, led in the driving, but made a poor approach, with the result that this hole was caught a gracious smile from the goddess of luck and as a result won out. He made a bad drive, the little white ball going into the woods, but it struck a tree at the right angle, and, bounding out, roiled to the edge of the green, from which point a brilliant put was made and the hole secured

This tied the score, and on the sixth hole Dr. Harban again came to the front. On the seventh hole Mr. Horstman was the best man, and as he also captured the eighth, he took the lead for the first time. Clever putting after magnificent drives also en tenth holes and eleventh holes and twelfth holes and halve the thirteenth. On the fourteenth hole Dr. Harban did better work than his opponent, Mr. Harvan did better work than his opponent, Mr. Horstman going into the hazard, while the doctor got through in three strokes. The fifteenth hole was halved, but Horstman captured the sixteenth on two strokes. The seventeenth hole bothered both players somewhat and it was finally halved.

On the last hole Mr. Horstman, by a skillful drive and good approach, was on the green in two strokes, but he fell off in his putting, taking two more strokes to capture the hole. The doctor also fell behind on this final hole, taking five strokes to reach home, and the result of this match was 4 up in Mr. Horstman's favor.

Yesterday's match opened the golf scanon in this vicinity, and the helpt day.

son in this vicinity, and the bright day brought out a splendid crowd of enthusiasts, many ladies being among the onlookers and one especially deserving mention, as she followed the playing of Messrs. Harban and Horstman over the entire course of eighteen holes. course of eighteen holes.

Another Meeting Saturday. Next Saturday the Columbia and Chevy Chase teams will meet again, this time on the links of the latter, and Captain Harban will endeavor to have out his strongest GOODS and other rare group of players. Although both clubs have numerous golf enthusiasts, it is a hard matter to get twenty players together at the same time. Should the Chevy Chase team win the match Saturday it will be entitled to hold The Evening Star trophy until next fall, scoring one point, and with three points, or the best record on the next two seasons, it will become the club's permanent property. But golf is an uncertain game and many strong players may be developed next season by the younger clubs, and as a result the trophy may visit either the Co-lumbia, Washington or Dumbarton homes before becoming the permanent property of any one of them.

IN AND OUT BATTERS.

Detehanty Gained 38 Points Over Last Of the twenty-five batsmen of the National Base Ball League who hit over .300 last year and took part in this season's fight ten are not enrolled among the twenty-four who gained hits enough to win niches in the hall of swatting fame. That leaves nine promotions to the heavy batting division to offset the failures. Sam Crawford, Dan Green, Heiny Peitz, Tom McCreery, Clarence Beaumont, Harry Wolverton, Fred Clarke, Gene De Montreville and Bobby Wallace make up the former, and the ten who have slumped are Selbach, Tannehill, Hamilton, Orth, Donovan, Hickman, McFarland, McGann, Chance and Schriver. An exhibit of the shrinkage in their averages follows:

Take their view and there would doubt-less be a unanimity of opinion that the foul strike rule had something to do with the loss in batting prestige they suffered, but their arguments could be met by a showing of gains quite as substantial. Jesse Burkett, for instance, who leads with

PLEASING OUTLOOK

Sportsmen Animated Over Approaching Quail Season.

COVERTS ARE FILLED WITH COVEYS

In One or Two Nearby Neighborhoods They are Scarce.

ELSEWHERE PLENTIFUL

Quail shooting begins generally throughout the region favored by this most popular of game birds November 1, and except in the District of Columbia and the portions of Maryland immediately contiguous thereto the prospects for excellent sport are alluring. There are very few coveys in the District or in nearby portions of Montgomery and Prince George's counties, but from every other section easily attainable from Washington the bunches are plentiful and large in numbers, while the birds are bigger and stronger than they have been for many years past at this time.

Last winter was a particularly good one for the quail family. There were no storms of much magnitude and consequently the surviving birds got along weil and found spring weather just to their liking also. Singular Conditions.

The limited number of coveys in the neighborhoods above mentioned is surprising when the conditions of the spring are considered. When the cheery pipe of Bob White began it was heard everywhere in the District and its environs. So pronounced were these notes, so grateful to sportsmen's ears, that there was a general sportsmen's ears, that there was a general feeling that breeding would be general and preductive of many birds. Despite these early favorable indications, however, it was found after the nesting season was over that the old birds had either left the coverts or had failed to breed young families. A number of nests filled with eggs but deserted by the birds were found after harvest in the vicinity of Rockville, Bethesda, Bladensburg and other points, but for what Bladensburg and other points, but for what cause the couple left their nests could not be ascertained. It was regarded as impossible that so many parent birds could have been killed by hawks or weasels and simllar predatory animals, but no one could give any reason for the desertion. Quite a number of migratory coveys have been noticed in the past ten days in these depleted sections, and maybe enough of the travelers will stay to make sport available. Where They Are Numerous. In the rest of the quail country, however, as stated above, the birds are plentiful. Reports from Virginia, far and near, are all to the same effect-that quails are remarkably numerous. Similar assurances come from Frederick, Washington, Garrett, Anne Arundel, Charles, St. Mary's and other Maryland counties, so lovers of the gun and dog who cannot make long trips to enjoy the best of field sport are awaiting the season's opening with pleasant anticipation.

Sportsmen who have the leisure and means to go the distance favor North Caro-lina for quail shooting, and the news from there is to the effect that the birds are more plentiful than ever known before. At the offices of the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line railroads, which reach the best coverts in the state, reports are sent each year by station agents regarding quail conditions, and from all of these sources the informaand from all of these sources the informa-tion is the same—plenty of birds. It is believed the vigorous enforcement of the North Carolina law forbidding the exporta-tion of killed birds from the state has been largely instrumental in increasing the so notably, as it prevented the shipping of quail killed or trapped by market hunt-ers to the big cities, which in former years reached thousands of dozens of birds an-

DISTRICT BOWLING LEAGUE. Schedule of Games for the Coming The rumble of the bowling ball is again neard on all of the alleys throughout the city. While there are many public alleys here that meet every requirement of standard inspection, the bone and sinew of the local bowling world is contained in the District Amateur Bowling League, an organization that stands in the fore rank of American tenpin associations. The league this season is composed of teams representing the Young Men's Christian Association, Washington Saengerbund, Carroll Institute, Golden Eagle Bowling Club, Jolly Fat Men's Club and the South Washington Business Men's Club. These clubs were all members of the league last season, and they contested a series of games that were well played and that were carried out from well played and that were carried out from end to end of the season in a highly creditable and harmonious manner. This year it is thought the interest will be greater than ever, a somewhat shortened schedule naturally tending in that direction. Soon after the fall meetings of the league board of directors began it was decided to keep the playing schedule within the limits of five months, if possible, and the following schedule, which was adopted at a meeting of the league at the Business Men's Club last night, shows that the schedule comor the league at the Business Men's Club last night, shows that the schedule committee has been successful in its effort to do this. The clubs will contest twice on the alleys of each of their opponents and twice with each club upon the home alleys. Three games will be played at each meeting, each team thus playing in sixty games during the season

But there will be many old players on hand when play begins November 11, and these will steady whatever tecruits the team captains have found necessary to fill their ranks.

Good Day for Yankee Jockeys. American owners and jockeys had a good day at Newmarket, England, yesterday, but were unplaced in the Czarewitch

"Danny" Maher, the Yankee rider, scored brackets twice. In the Kennett plate for two-year-olds and upward he landed James R. Keene's Chacarnac home in front, with E. Corrigan's Lute, Thorpe up, second, and Frand Gardner's Monsieur de L'Orme, ridden by Clem Jenkins, third.

"Johnny" Reiff brought William C. Whitney's Spectrum in ahead in the Select stakes, and Dundonald, piloted by Jenkins, won the Autumn handicap.

Two "Killings" at Morris Park. Two "killings" were made at Morris Park vesterday, with Slipthrift in the second and foymaker in the fourth race. Everybody eemed to have "the card" on Slipthrift, and when the layers quoted 5 and 6 to 1 at the opening there was a small sized at the opening there was a small sized panic to get the money on. His price was quickly cut to 4 to 1, then 3 to 1 and finally to 5 to 2, at which price he closed favorite. He was off basily and did not improve his position very much until straightened out for home, when he closed gamely under the whip and won by a length and a half half.

In the fourth race Joymaker was heavily backed from 12 to 1 to 6 to 1, and he won also, although his backers were lucky, to cash, as he interfered with Trump in the last sixteenth, who in turn was forced over on Keynote, the favorite, forcing O'Connor to pull up. The stewards would not allow the claim of foul, however, and the horses were placed as they finished, Joymaker, Trump and Bessie McCarthy.

feated the Eastern High School 25 to 0. The weight of the teams is about equal. but the superior team work of the Olympias won the game. Their playing was excellent, down being made after a long end run. The playing of Garges and Burch for Eastern was worthy of special notice, whereas the whole Olympia team stuck together and played as one. MeGRAW'S DENIAL. Baltimore Manager Says Story is Silly. Manager John J. McGraw of the Baltimore base ball club, who has been in New York for several days, arrived in Baltimore

yesterday. He says his visit to the metropolis was purely a pleasure trip. He said he had not talked base ball matters with any one and that the stories to the effect that the Baltimore club would be transferred to New York were not only untrue, but were silly. McGraw says it is nis usual custom after season to take a little pleasure trip, and he followed it this year. He spent most of his time at the Morris Park races. While there he met Clark Griffith of Chicago by accident. Griffith invited McGraw to visit him at his hotel, but though McGraw wished to do so he refrained, because he teared his visit would be the result of further newspaper stories. ther newspaper stories.

McGraw has received a letter from President Ban Johnson, who advises him that matters in St. Louis are in a favorable shape and that the pick of the St. Louis National League players have been corraled for the American League team.

President Johnson says he is opposed to taking back any contract jumpers. He appears to be sanguine of having all of the desirable stars playing on American League clubs next season. The prestige gained by the American League last season was so certain that the financial backers of the clubs will not be backward in putting up all the money necessary to get the strong-est players in the business. DISGUSTED BALL PLAYERS.

'Throw-Down" by Brooklyn Men Creates Bitter Feeling. A special from Vincennes, Ind., says that the throw-down given by the Brooklyn ball players to American and National League stars who are giving exhibitions throughout the country on their way to the Pacific coast has caused a great deal of comment on the part of the latter and opened a breach which is likely to cause some very bitter feeling and probably upset a number of plans for next season. Frank Bancroft, who is managing the tourists, said: "The who is managing the tourists, said: "The throw-down given us by the Brooklyn players has changed our entire program and caused the players to feel very bitter toward them. The treatment given was outrageous and naturally made some very sore spots. We will play Olney, Ill.; Evansville, Ind.; Cairo, Ill., and Memphis, Tenn... as scheduled with the present teams, and Sunday night, when we close at Memphis, the National players will disband and return to their homes. The American team will continue to the Pacific soast, playing in Mississippi, Texas and Louisiana, and on Thanksgiving day will open in San Francisco. as usual, it was a beauty, although Dr. Harban's was quite as effective, the latter capturing the first hole on three strokes. The doctor was also in front on the second hole, but on the third his luck and cleverness seemed to desert him, Mr. Horstman winning out. The doctor was evidently nervous, probably on account of the large gallery which watched his play, but it should not be lost sight of that Mr. Horstman played unusually brilliant golf and that it would have required almost "bogey" figures to overcome his work.

With one hole to the good, the friends of Dr. Harban watched the fourth drive-off with renewed interest. Mr. Horstman, as usual, led in the driving, but made a poor on the part of the American League playdown has called out a great deal of feeling on the part of the American League players. Jake Beckley will not confinue with the teams, but will return to Cincinnati tonight. Later he will take his wife and go to California, where he will spend the winter. Hahn will leave the team in New Orleans and winter in Cincinnati, while Irwin will go to Chicago and Newton to Indianapolis. Fisher Beck and Pickering will apolis. Fisher, Beck and Pickering will also return after the Memphis engagement, but the American players, headed by La-jole, undoubtedly the greatest player who ever wore a uniform, will continue to the Pacific coast." TO STOP ASHE-CONNELLY FIGHT. Ohio's Attorney General Takes Legal Victory for Gallaudet Reserves. The Gallaudet reserves and the Maryland Agricultural College elevens played two exciting fifteen-minute halves at College Park yesterday. The former team won the contest by 11 to 10. The Kendall Green boys scored their eleven points in the first half, while their opponents got but five. In the second half the Agricultural College boys fumbled the ball often, but by fierce rushes, assisted by their weight, which averaged several pounds more than the Kendall several pounds more than the Kendall Green eleven, they managed to come within one point of tying the score of the visitors. Gallaudet lined up as follows: Winemiller, left end; Bradham, left tackle; Stevens, left guard; Chandler, center; Kleberg, right guard; Lawrence, right tackle; Escherick, right end; Friend and Phelps, quarter back; Pfunder, right half back; Meunier, left half back, and Mayer, full back.

Pastor's Installation. ndence of The Evening Star.

LAUREL, Md., October 17, 1901. Rev. A. E. Baker was formally installed as pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Laurel last night at 8 o'clock in the house of worship before a large cangregation of the members of the church and a large number of other denominations. Rev. Mr. Baker was to have been installed in July, number of other denominations. Rev. Mr. Baker was to have been installed in July, 1900, but owing to illness the services were postponed. At that time the thurch edifice was under construction and the members worshiped in the Masonic Hall.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Alexander of the Maryland Avenue Presbyterian Church of Baltimore preached the installation sermon, his theme being "Love—the love that made men forsake everything else to follow Christ and preach His Gospel." Dr. Alexander illustrated his talk, showing that more can be accomplished by love than by riches or knowledge, giving for example the conditions of Peter's service as the leader of the apostles. He said that lisherman was nothing but a poor and ignorant toiler of the deep, but that his love carried him to the position of the greatest of the apostoic band. Following the sermon of Dr. Alexander the charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. L. A. McLean of the Deacon Memorial Church of Baltimore. In addressing himself to the pastor the speaker charged him to preach the Word and hold Christ before the people, to be impartial in his pastoral work and watchful of all the interests which lead to the success of the church of Christ, and to trust not in himself, but in the power of God. The charge to the congregation was also made by Dr. McLean. He besought the members to render their pastor all the assistance in their power, to be punctual in attendance at the services and to encourage him in every way possible. Following this charge the congregation came forward and welcomed their pastor, who has found a watm place in the hearts of his parishloners. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Baker.

they will now be empowered to suspend at the end of the evening's games any player who disputes their decisions, or does any-thing which in their opinion may justify suspension. A player thus suspended will not be allowed to again participate in any of the league games until an investigation is made by the directors. There have been but few cases of rowdyism in the league ranks, but this rule should effectually pre-vent their recurrence.
